Fully vaccinated travellers entering Canada

On April 1, 2022, fully vaccinated Canadians will no longer need to provide a negative pre-entry test when returning to Canada. They only need the following:

- an ArriveCAN receipt.
- proof of vaccination uploaded.
- necessary travel documents.
- quarantine plan.

Travellers who have recently tested positive for COVID-19 are highly encouraged to show proof of their positive COVID-19 molecular test result so that they are not subject to mandatory random testing upon arrival to Canada.

It remains important to self-monitor for symptoms leading up to international travel. As well, you should assess the risk factors related to where you're going.

For more information on arriving at the border, visit: https://travel.gc.ca/travel-covid/travel-restrictions/covid-vaccinated-travellers-entering-canada

For more information on the Government of Canada's response to COVID-19, refer to: https://www.canada.ca/covid-19

Is this email useful? Answer some questions to tell us more: http://www.canada.ca/feedback-covid-19-updates

You signed up to "Get Updates on COVID-19". To unsubscribe please visit: https://apps.canada.ca/x-notify/subs/remove/5fae95e9769ed11db515b234/853e0212b92a127. If you are not yet signed up, please visit: http://www.Canada.ca/covid19-updates